

Craig Rhodes

Vice President, Regional Economic Development

Greater Houston Partnership

Craig has worked at the Greater Houston Partnership for over 12 years. In his current role, Craig leads GHP's regional economic development team. This team works to attract new jobs and capital investment to the 12-County Houston region across multiple industry sectors. Craig has been a Certified Economic Developer (CEcD) since 2015, with over 18 years of economic and community development experience in Houston. In addition to GHP, Craig also worked on the economic development team at CenterPoint Energy, supporting new growth across the greater Houston region.

Craig served as Chair of the Houston Regional Economic Development Alliance (HREDA) from 2017-2022 and has served on the Board of Directors for the Texas Economic Development Council and the Utility Economic Development Association. He is an active member of the International Economic Development Council and has held numerous Board and leadership roles in economic development across the Houston area. Craig is a graduate of The University of Texas at Austin. He and his wife Kristi have three children.